

Not as planned 1.5 - Katsuki and Eijiro

A/B/O Verse

Von Puraido

Kapitel 8: Katsuki Bakugo + Eijiro Kirishima: +3 Years - Thailand Trip (4)

Katsuki opened his eyes and he immediately felt dread befall him. He could feel the hot body next to him. He paled by the memory of him asking Deku to fuck him. Shit, he had messed up again!

"Are you awake?" Izuku asked.

Katsuki flinched and sat up. "Y-yeah" he answered. God, he hoped that Deku had been too drunk to remember their conversation, he nervously looked over to him. Izuku sat up too and stretched.

Izuku looked at him. God, Katsuki hoped he wouldn't mention it, he didn't want to think about that! He hoped everything could be swept under the carpet and he didn't have to deal with that.

"How did you sleep?" Izuku asked him.

"Oh uh, very good ... A-and you?" he looked over nervously.

"I slept pretty well, too. I'm a bit unwilling however to go out and clean up the cliff." He sighed. But then he focused more on Katsuki. "Ahem ... about last night. Do you remember what you asked me?"

Katsuki exhaled, well, shit. "Y-yeah, I do. I'm sorry, okay, I know I shouldn't ask such things."

"No, no, it's okay, I don't have a problem with that. If you want sex, we can have sex" now, this statement completely baffled Katsuki, he turned around.

"W-what? You would have sex with me if I'd ask you?" He was so confused.

Izuku shrugged. "Yes, as long as you realize that it is just for fun, no romantic feelings whatsoever."

"Huh ... but what about last night? You didn't want to have sex with me" Katsuki raised his eyebrows.

"Yeah, because you were drunk. I would never take advantage of someone who's drunk. I had drunk sex a couple of times, and it wasn't fun. I want you to be clear if we're doing it."

"Oh ... thanks! I appreciate that you didn't take advantage of me last night" Katsuki looked at him.

Izuku smiled. "No problem." He stood up from the bed. "But now I have to go clean up. Otherwise, Ian is ripping my head off. Must have been really boring for him yesterday" Izuku sighed.

"I come with you and help, just give me a second to change" Katsuki jumped up and gathered a few things, he disappeared into the bathroom. He quickly relieved himself and then brushed his teeth, his head was still spinning from the situation before. So, Deku would have sex with him, if he asked ... fuck, what should he do? God damn, he really wanted it, but was that really okay? Could his poor heart take that? Would his omega get his hopes up if he slept with Deku?

Damn, this situation was really overwhelming him. There was his omega that screamed to get fucked by Deku and then there was the alpha who reasoned against it. It wouldn't be good at all if he did that.

Katsuki splashed some water in his face and slapped his cheeks. He would figure something out, he had a week more than the rest, so if he were to advance on Izuku again, it was probably for the best, if he did it there.

He was eventually ready and they walked to the cliffs together.

Tenya, Ian, Jesper, Rikido, Mezo, Ochako, Tsuyu, and Eijiro were already at the cliff site. "Sorry for being late" Izuku apologized.

"Ah, it's okay," Ian said, he was in the midst of cleaning up the tables. They all got to work now and the area was quickly clean again.

"So, did ya plan on something special today?" Ian asked.

"Hm, I am not sure, oh, hey, btw. Canaan suggested that our team competes against my friends. What do you think?" Izuku looked over to the other prime alpha, who was currently in front of the cliff.

"Hm, sure, but not today. I got some business to do." He said. "Maybe on Friday or something like this."

"Yeah, Friday would be good." Jesper agreed.

"Okay, then on Friday" Izuku smiled.

They got back to the mansion about an hour later. Denki was sitting outside with a few of the others, he looked rather miserable, Hitoshi was next to him and rubbed over his back. "Drank too much last night?" Katsuki asked when he sat next to Denki.

"Yeah ..." the omega nodded. "I really should not drink so much."

"I told you to stop, but you never listen to me" Kyoka sighed.

They sat around outside for a while, while Izuku was asking for some lunch. They talked about what they wanted to do today, when suddenly Elsa appeared, with very strange 'pets'. Two seemingly alpha males were crawling on all fours, they had dog masks on and she had them on a leash.

"Hey, how was the party yesterday?" She stopped in front of them. "Sit" she commanded the 'puppies'.

"Oh, it was very good! The cliffs are amazing" Katsuki said. He eyed the two alphas. One was rubbing his head against Elsa's leg.

"I know right! I love the place." She patted his head. Puppy play wasn't uncommon, but Katsuki had never seen it in action, or on the streets.

One of those guys barked a little. "Ah, right, those are Dex and Astor" she introduced.

"Uhm, hey" the others made. Denki waved awkwardly at them.

Izuku came back. "Ah, hi, Elsa" he stopped next to Dex and Astor. "Hey, you two." He patted their heads and they woofed. "You going for a walk?"

"Ah, yeah, now that you mention it. Wanna tag along?"

"Nah, we'll have lunch soon" Izuku denied.

"Fair enough. I'll be going then. Say goodbye, pups" she said and the two of them woofed again. After that, she took them for a walk.

"Huh ..." Katsuki made, he looked after them. His alpha growled a little while his omega was kinda interested. He wondered if Deku was into puppy play. Katsuki himself had nothing against collars, but he disliked leashes. But if Deku was the one holding his leash ... He suppressed the urge to shake his head violently. He shouldn't think about that!

Lacey and the other maids brought the food to them, the rest of them had also gathered around the tables.

"You guys want to go skateboarding later?" Izuku asked.

"Heck yes! Skateboards!" Denki beamed, he seemed fit enough again.

"Then I will bring you to the skate park."

They ate quickly and after that, they gathered and made their way over to the park. When they arrived they were baffled again. "Does this city have anything normal at all?" Hitoshi asked.

There were over the normal skate area giant metal constructions mid-air. They floated around at the moment.

"Hm, oh, that's only because Kaleb's nephews are here. Their quirks are magnetism too, and they use that to make the parkour more challenging."

Denki, who had a borrowed skateboard under his arm, whistled. "That seems fun! I want to try that!"

"Haha, then go for it!" Izuku laughed.

Denki placed the skateboard on the ground and hopped onto it. He rolled onto the first ramp and he jumped in the air and spun around a few times.

"I never realized, how good Denki was with a skateboard" Ochako murmured.

Izuku was on the court too by now. Katsuki didn't know that the nerd could skate. Well, he also hadn't known that he could do all the other stuff, time had really changed him.

More and more joined them. Some were better at skateboarding, but some never even tried it. Shoto and Momo looked pretty helpless. Shoto was more comfortable with surfing on his ice than standing on this thin board.

"Yo, Denki, wanna go up there?" Izuku pointed at the floating objects.

"Yeah, that seems fun!" And with that, Denki pushed himself forward he piloted to a ramp and from there he jumped in one of the metal tubes. He used his electromagnetism to hold himself in the tube and to accelerate to massive speeds. Izuku floated in high speed up to another platform.

Denki shot out of the tube like a cannonball. He did six flips forward before he landed on Izuku's platform. "Damn, boy, that was amazing!" Izuku complimented. "You mastered electromagnetism?"

"Yeah, my boss taught it to me. She's currently the strongest electricity user in Japan, even though she's technically American." He explained.

"Oh, sounds interesting, I think I know who you mean!" Izuku smiled.

They skated for a little while longer before they descended back down.

When they arrived on the ground, Izuku asked Denki if he wanted to have a dance competition. There were some guys with music and Izuku asked them if they could turn up the volume. They agreed and after that, they gathered to watch the two. Katsuki was interested to see what they would do now. He was more of a casual skater, and he hadn't done it in years so he himself was really out of practice.

Denki eventually started to dance to the rhythm of the music on his skateboard. He flipped it around, he flipped himself around and it really looked like dancing. The others applauded the whole time and cheered for him.

After that, it was Izuku's turn, it looked equally smooth and impressive, eventually, they danced together. Their boards worked in perfect synchrony and it was amazing to look at.

The evening came in no time and they made their way back home. They watched some movies in this giant home cinema. Ochako fainted when she saw that.

Katsuki went to bed really exhausted this night, but this was good, this kept his thoughts away from the idea of going to Izuku and asking him again.

On Thursday they went into the city first, the girls wanted to go shopping a little more. Katsuki was very intrigued to go to one of the many sex shops, but no! Not with the others around.

But he saw some damn pretty gear, that he would love to try on. "What'cha looking for?" A familiar voice appeared. Katsuki flinched and looked at Elsa. "Oh, trying to impress a certain someone?" She had a grin on her face.

"Uh, no! I just look around" he said.

"Pah, don't lie to me." A strange feeling rushed over Katsuki, when he looked in her eyes, it was similar to an alpha command, but not quite the same. He felt the need to answer her honestly.

"Fine, yeah, I look for things that Deku could like, but it's hard, I am not sure what his taste is" he growled.

"Good boy, honesty is important" she smiled. "Well, follow me then." She grabbed his hand and pulled him into the store. Katsuki looked around if one of the others was watching him, but luckily that was not the case.

"Izubabe likes a lot of stuff, but nothing in particular. So you basically can't do anything wrong" she told him.

"Hey, what's your relationship with him?" Katsuki asked, curiously.

"Oh, we fucked one time," she said. She looked at Katsuki, still smiling. "Jealous?"

"Hm, just surprised" he answered. "I try to keep myself from getting jealous, I know that it's pointless" he added.

Elsa was going through an aisle and pulled some of the sexy clothing out, she held it up in front of him.

"He told me what happened." She mumbled, while tilting her head and inspecting the outfit, she shook her head and put it back on the rag.

"Oh, he did? What is your opinion on that?"

"Boy, I'm not a judge. I just want to say, you all were pretty young, starting with a poly relationship is probably not the best thing to do." She grabbed another outfit. "Hm, yeah, that looks good."

Katsuki frowned a little. "That's really revealing ..." he mumbled.

"That's the point, right? You wanna get him hot, don't you?"

"Y-yeah ..."

"Did you ever have real sex before, not just with toys?"

"No ..."

"Huh, maybe something tamer then?" She placed the item over her arm and moved on.

Katsuki looked around nervously. "So, how are the usual sex partners of him?" he asked.

"Oh, well, they are professional prostitutes, most of the time. So not much of a competition, not that it matters." She pulled another piece out and put it in front of him.

"Ah ..." Damn, that was helpful, he growled a little. What did he expect? "And you? I mean I mentioned you have a mate, why did you sleep with him, then?"

"It's a job, so Alejandro is okay with it" she shrugged. "Sex is my job, besides, Izuku paid for it." She shrugged and looked at him again. "You don't want the others to know, what you're about to do, right?"

"No, they better not, learn about that."

"Okay then" she put the piece of fabric over her arm again. "So ... You want sex toys too?"

"... yeah ..."

They went through some shops and Elsa showed him some amazing ones, he would definitely come back when the others were back in Japan. He saw some really interesting toys. Luckily for him, the bags were plain so he could carry them home safely. The others had split at some point so that he went missing throughout hadn't been noticed.

Elsa winked at him and told him to just go for it before she left.

God damn, was he really going to go through with that? He knew that he shouldn't but damn, he wanted it. But he had until the next week to decide if he would do it or not. He should focus now, he thought.

They were at the roof pool and enjoyed the nice weather, the sunset was simply amazing. Tsuyu was swimming around the pool the water had the perfect temperature.

Eijiro was half focused on the sunset and half on Katsuki, it was honest to god hilarious to watch him. He tried so hard to hide his obvious lust attacks for Izuku. By now Eijiro could laugh about it, a couple of years prior and they would have had a problem. He had to admit, however, that Izuku did, in fact, look damn good. So he could understand why Katsuki would stare.

They drank again a lot. Eijiro was in the pool when Izuku came over. "Oi, wanna jump down, straight into the ground pool? If you jump off the sides you can avoid the middle pool." He wiggled his eyebrows.

"Ha, sure, sounds like fun!" They got out of the water and walked over to the sides. The bottom pool was right under them. They started running and jumped off they flew through the air before they fell and both flipped forward multiple times before their feet hit the water first.

"Damn! That's was fun! But damn high!" Eijiro said.

"Haha, yeah, that's the point. We usually jump off the cliff but the pools work too.

Eijiro nodded. "Makes sense."

Izuku grabbed Eijiro and they floated up again. The others cheered when they returned, and now they took turns in jumping down. It was very fun for most of them.

Katsuki has completely knocked down again, the alcohol and the jumping around sent him directly into sleep.

Friday came and today, in the afternoon, would be the game of basketball. Katsuki was curious, were they really that good as a team?

The time until the afternoon was pretty chill, he was in the pool again on a floaty and he relaxed in the sun. Denki, Kyoka, and Hitoshi were also around him, just chilling.

Then the time came and they walked over to the court. He chatted with the others about potential strategies.

When they arrived, Izuku walked over to the rest of his team. While Izuku and the team discussed something, the former class members got ready. It was decided that they, plus Toya to make it an even twenty, would compete against the other five. They would also change the rules. While Izuku's team had to score in the other three baskets, they should only focus on the one basket that they had. It was the lowest and easiest to score.

"Pah, do you really think we have that little chance?" Katsuki asked Izuku.

Izuku shrugged. "We just want to make it fairer for you guys."

Canaan showed up next to them. She would be the referee. "Believe me, dude, it will be a miracle if you score even one basket, provided they play seriously and don't let you score in the first half. That's what they usually do" she scoffed. "They wouldn't be the miracle team when they weren't crazy good."

Katsuki still growled a little. Luckily it was hot outside, so sweating was not a problem and he was completely powered up.

"We'll win this, with team effort!" Ochako tried to cheer them on.

"Hell yes, they are only five, no way, they can beat us!" Toru jumped up and down.

Katsuki was somehow not so sure, Izuku had gotten incredibly fast and they hadn't seen his full capacities just yet. Ian and Jesper were incredibly fast and they didn't know the quirks of the other two. He wouldn't make the mistake of underestimating them.

They gathered now they were allowed to surround them in order to protect the baskets. Canaan had the ball in hand and she threw it into the air. Izuku and Mezo both jumped up and it was Mezo who got the ball this time, by duplicating his arms. He immediately passed it on to Fumikage with Dark Shadow, but Jesper blocked him.

He passed on and Tenya caught the ball he immediately sprinted towards the basket, but he got startled, when Lee was right next to him, effortlessly keeping up with him, not even breaking a sweat. He cursed, when he got the ball and even accelerated. "Tsu!" he called over and Tsuyu grabbed him with her tongue and changed his direction immediately.

Mashirao was defending their basket when Lee sprinted towards him. He could block the ball thanks to his tail, he flung it through the air and Kyoka caught it with her earphone jacks. She was immediately blocked by Izuku, she squeaked a little bit but passed the ball on to Ochako and she made her way over to the basket again, but again, Lee was fast next to her. Ochako made the ball float and threw it towards Eijiro.

But to all their shock, Lee walked just after it. He walked into the air and caught it. "Hey, that's cheating!" Ochako growled and released her quirk.

Lee laughed and threw the first basket. "Cheating? How, when you used your quirk too?" he asked. While he walked down.

They continued to play, they scored some baskets, but they soon realized that they were really holding back. Ian and Jesper hadn't even started to really play and Robin was rather tame too. Katsuki wondered what they were up to. He squared off against Ian, who grinned at him. He clearly let him get past him, which honestly pissed him off so much. He threw the basket easily. "Oi, what the fuck?" Katsuki yelled. "You're not taking this serious here and it pisses me off! All five of you!"

There were about five more minutes to play by now, and heroes led 120 to 60. How were they supposed to win that now? They exchanged some ambiguous looks and they nodded. And suddenly the atmosphere changed. All their eyes glowed yellow, they were in the zone. Katsuki flinched when Ian ran past him and scored. "What? I thought should take this serious now" Ian mocked him.

And with this, the whole game changed, the hero alphas went into their zones too, but unlike Izuku and his team, most of them hadn't further trained them. Shit ... The others had now really trouble to even get the ball, and even when they had it, the alphas made sure to take it from them.

The point difference melted away and within three minutes they were at 120 to 100. Unlike official basketball there were considerably fewer rules on what was allowed and what not, the only rule was, they had to score in the baskets in a particular order to make it count, and they had to dribble the ball, but otherwise they could use anything to help them with that. There were no fouls et cetera. When you fell down, you just had to get up again. Only if one took major injury, the game would be stopped. So they immediately could get to the ball and take it to the next basket.

The others tried to block them, but to no avail, Ian just jumped over them. Katsuki tried to keep up with Izuku, but the insane speed made it impossible for him. Not even his explosions could propel him fast enough.

The last-minute was ticking down now and it was 120 to 121, they needed one more basket! They needed to get it, somehow!

They had to work as a team together and overpower them! Eijiro and Tenya made their way over and he followed them, Shoto froze the place to make it harder for the others to walk on.

Izuku had the ball and Katsuki, Tenya and Eijiro cornered him, the others tried to hold off the alphas. Toya sent a wave of flames his way, and Izuku jumped out of the way. Katsuki catapulted himself in the air and his fingertips touched the ball and he managed to change its course.

Iida managed to get a hold of the ball and he threw it, the last ten seconds, he only had this one throw! At the last second, the ball hit the basket and was in. Canaan ended the game, 122 to 121.

"Hell yes! We got it!" They cheered. Izuku chuckled while he talked a bit further away from the others.

"You did great guys, amazing teamwork" Jesper said. The others congratulated them too.

The others were really happy, that they had managed to win, still, something bugged Katsuki, it didn't feel right, he decided to ask Izuku later about it.

They stayed some time longer, had some more throws here and there, and exchanged techniques.

When they came home they were surprised by the number of people that were at the mansion.

"What's going on here?" Tenya asked.

"Oh, I believe Malka is having a party, she has her own strip club there" Izuku explained. "Wanna have a look?" He asked. "There will be males too if you guys prefer that" he chuckled.

"I'm in!" Mina said immediately, which made the others laugh. "But the question is, will there be alphas or only omegas?"

"Both! That's the beauty, everyone can strip! Even you guys could go on the stage and do a dance" he said. While bringing them down. Some of them excused themselves.

Eijiro didn't want to stay, Toru and Mashirao didn't want to either. Shoto and Momo however stayed, they were intrigued. The same was for Hitoshi, Kyoka, and Denki, they were interested in this too.

Koji was too shy too and Yuga had no interest either. The rest of the group went down to the clubs. It was dark down there at first, before many lights flared up, the stage was illuminated and they could see a few guys and girls pole dancing on the stage.

"Oh! Pole dance! I tried this once" Mina exclaimed. "It's so fun!"

"Yeah, that's right!" Ochako clapped her hands once.

"You can try it too, just hop onto the stage when a pole is free," Izuku said.

"Ah, I don't think I'm good enough for that!" Mina laughed.

They sat down on some of the couches that surrounded the stages. Malka was dancing on them and Mina had to admit, she was damn good. But okay, that was her job, would be bad if she wasn't good at it.

While they watched, they drank again, Katsuki was next to Izuku, when suddenly some girls came up to them. One of them sat down on Deku's lap. She was an alpha lady. "Hey, handsome, want some venom?" she asked.

Izuku chuffed. "Hell yes!" The woman laughed and Katsuki saw her jaws working, while she produced venom. He raised his eyebrows, he took a stranger's venom just like that? Well, Katsuki guessed that she wasn't a stranger to him.

"You take venom?" Tenya spoke his question out.

"Yeah, some alphas give it out as an aphrodisiac, to other alphas. They only give out certain amounts so you don't blackout, or get your ruts started."

"Only alphas?" Denki asked.

"Yes, only alphas, since they are not affected by it, the same way as omegas are," Izuku explained.

The girl chuckled and leaned over to kiss Izuku to give him the venom. Katsuki heard Izuku moan over the loud music. He watched this with a mix of emotions. On one hand, it pissed him off to see this woman kissing him, on the other hand, he was turned on by Izuku's scent.

She broke the kiss, a thin threat of venom and saliva was still between their lips. "Have fun" she chuckled. She then stood up and looked around. She looked over to Katsuki. "Do you want, too?"

"No, thanks, I'm an alpha-omega" he answered.

"Alright then" She moved over to Tenya, who weirdly took her up on the offer.

Katsuki's attention turned to Izuku again, his head rested on the backrest and he had a grin on his face, while he was riding on the high of the venom.

He looked over to the other couches, many people were making out, there were many, many scents clashing together. It was a dangerous mix, Katsuki wondered if he could amplify Izuku's pleasure, even more, he had learned to perfectly control his scent after all.

Well, fuck it, others were kissing and almost having sex too ... Hitoshi, Kyoka, and Denki were on it, as well as Shoto and Momo, what they could do, he could do too. He moved over and sat on Izuku's lap, he grabbed the collar of his shirt. "Hey, I can give you something too, while you're at it" he purred.

Izuku's eyes focused on him. "Oh, then show me" he wiggled his eyebrows.

Katsuki grinned and he released his spicy-sweet scent, he made sure to make it especially arousing for him. "Fucking hell, that's good" Izuku rumbled when he inhaled more of the scent.

His hands ran over Katsuki's legs, and he then grabbed his ass. He let out a deep aroused growl. Katsuki came closer to him. "You like that?" he teased, and he amped up the intensity.

"Hell yes!" Katsuki leaned forward and kissed him. He could still taste the venom of the girl in his mouth. He bit on Izuku's bottom lip and pulled on it. Izuku leaned forward and caught up to him.

He grinded against Izuku and deepened it, god he had missed that. His fingers grabbed onto Izuku's hair now and they moved over to French kisses.

God damn, he wished they were somewhere more private, he didn't necessarily want to have sex in front of all the others.

Izuku broke the kiss. "We shouldn't do this now, with the others around" he mumbled into his ear. "We should wait till next week if you want to do it."

Katsuki was breathing heavily, but he nodded, "Yeah, would be better," he said out of breath. He climbed off of Izuku's lap but stayed close to him, Izuku had an arm around his shoulders.

They watched the show for a little while before Katsuki had enough, he needed to get out of here, before he climbed right back onto Izuku again. Izuku brought him back to the hotel. They were in front of his door. "I probably shouldn't stay this night ... Wouldn't be good with venom in my system."

"Yeah, probably! I want you to be clear when you fuck me" Katsuki pulled him closer one more time and kissed him. Damn, he was so horny right now.

"Good choice, I should go now, good night" with that he left and Katsuki looked after him.

"You think that's a good idea?" he heard Eijiro's voice. He flinched heavily, he hadn't even noticed him standing there. The redhead looked at him, head tilted.

"Probably not ... But uh, well ... I can't help it." He shrugged. "Don't give me that judge-y look. I know it's probably not the best idea to still want to do it with him, especially since he's not coming back."

"Why would you do it then?" Eijiro asked. "I mean, you can, of course, do what you want, it's not my place to judge that or anything, I'm just curious."

"Hm ... I don't know, maybe I'm a masochist after all. What's a few more years in therapy for one night of fun with your old flame?"

"You think that's worth it?"

"I hope so ... Besides, I want to have sex, too. Unlike you or him, I never had any sexual partners" he said.

Eijiro thought about that for a while, he slowly nodded. "Okay, fair enough. Anyway, good night then."

"Yeah, you too." With that, they both went back into their rooms. Katsuki couldn't really sleep, however. He unpacked his newly acquired toys and started to put them into use.

Saturday came, the last full day for the others, before they would fly back on Sunday. They took it rather slow this morning, many were hung-over from the night before. Especially Tenya seemed really out of it. To Katsuki's surprise, there was an awkward air around Tenya and Ochako ... did they?

Denki was all sparkling and excited for some reason, he couldn't sit still for a minute, at some point Kyoka had enough and told him to walk on his hands, to keep them occupied. Denki was confused as to what he should do now, but she repeated it, he eventually made a handstand and stayed in this position for as long as he could.

Katsuki was mostly snuggling up to Izuku, but eventually, Toya dragged him off, he of course knew that Katsuki would stay a week longer.

"So, do you plan on taking your chance with him this time?" Toya asked.

"You see everything, right?" Katsuki sighed.

"Well, it ain't hard, if you two make out in front of everyone" he bared his teeth for a moment.

"Yeah, I hope I can get a chance next week. At this point I just want to rip his clothes off and do it" he mumbled.

"Hahaha, then go for it. If you feel that it's the right thing to do, you should do it" Toya said.

"Thanks" Katsuki smiled. But then he remembered something. "Hey, what about you? You mentioned earlier this week, that you have something in mind, dating-wise, are you seeing someone?"

Toya rubbed the back of his head. "Well, not really, we uh ... it's not really dating, but he's really nice and all."

"Oh, but this is great! You deserve happiness!"

"Thank you ... But I am kinda ... scared, I mean all my life, my relationships were fucked up, and I have trouble to believe that someone like me finds some happiness."

"Oh, come on, you deserve all the happiness! You should tell him!" Katsuki tried to encourage him.

Toya exhaled. "I'm not sure ... I mean, I am not even certain that there IS really something or if that's in my imagination. Because, if there is nothing, I would be kinda screwed ..." he clenched his jaw.

"What? Why?" Katsuki tilted his head.

Toya looked away for a few seconds. "Because it's Sougo ... If I read the signs wrong and he doesn't like me, then that would be really awkward."

"Wait, Sougo like in 'Blue Rabbit'? Our boss Sougo?" Katsuki looked at him with big eyes.

"Yes. Our Sougo ... I think he flirted with me one time, but me being awful at deciphering signs can't tell for sure."

"Wow, I am kinda surprised. Hmm, have you asked the others if he likes men? If he does, then it could be flirting."

"I carefully asked Michiko and she said, he's hella gay. So yeah ..." He half shrugged with his shoulders he really didn't know what he should do.

"Then you should ask him too, it's better than constantly guessing" Katsuki mumbled.

"You're probably right" he scratched again the back of his head.

"Hey, you can keep me up to date if you do it while I'm still here, yeah?"

Toya scoffed. "Only if you inform me as well." He wiggled his eyebrows. "And I want details."

Katsuki laughed. "Okay, deal!" They shook hands to that.

The day ended eventually and Katsuki went into bed. Tomorrow he would move into the mansion for the next week, he would be closer to Izuku that way. He was excited!

The next morning arrived and most of them packed their bags, when Katsuki did not show up with his, they gave him curious looks. "Oh, I stay here a week longer" he explained.

"Damn, we had the option?" Ochako hissed slightly at the missed opportunity.

"Yeah, you had" Katsuki chuckled, but he was actually very glad that none of the others stayed longer.

Mina appeared behind him. "Oh, you stay longer? Are you going to do what I think you're going to do?" She had a huge grin on her face.

Katsuki sighed. "I do not see, how this is something of your business" he smiled as politely as he could at her.

"Woah, when you smile like that, I get the feeling you want to murder me!" Mina backed away from him.

"Who knows" he continued smiling.

He looked over to Deku and All Might, he saw them hugging. Eri was next to them jumping slightly up and down because she wanted attention too. He eventually gave it to her.

They all said their goodbyes and Katsuki waited until they had boarded the plane. "Come, Kacchan, let's get you settled in the mansion."

"Okay, coming!" with that he turned around and they made their way back to Batoh and back to the mansion.