

Not as planned 1.5 - Katsuki and Eijiro

A/B/O Verse

Von Puraido

Kapitel 11: Eijiro Kirishima: +4 Years (+Izuku)

When Eijiro came home, he stormed into his room and threw himself onto the bed. Mina and Tetsutetsu looked at each other, not knowing what they should do.

"Hey, Eijiro, do you want to talk about it?" Mina asked, following him.

"Yeah, man, what happened?"

Eijiro mumbled something in the pillow he hugged. "What? We don't understand a thing like that" Mina pouted.

Eijiro turned his head. "I got drunk, went over to Katsuki, kissed him, and tried to have sex with him." He repeated.

"Holy shit ... Are you serious?" Mina couldn't believe it.

"Yes, but luckily he stopped me before I could do anything. God, I don't even want to think about it, if I had gone through with that. How am I supposed to face him from now on? He says that it is okay, that nothing happened but ... I don't know, I feel so bad!"

"That's the really hard stuff" Tetsutetsu commented. "And it's gonna be awkward."

"You are not helping!" Mina hissed. "Do you want us to cuddle you?"

"... yes please" he murmured.

Mina and Tetsutetsu lay down next to him, it was a bit strange for Tetsutetsu, but when his bro needed him, he would be there for him. That's what bros did after all.

The cuddling helped a little but Eijiro didn't dare to meet up with Katsuki after that. The awkwardness was too big. But he sometimes met Katsuki on the streets, but since the blonde was always accompanied by Hiroto, Eijiro got never the courage to speak to him.

He felt so fucking guilty. He imagined what would have happened if Katsuki was the same as before when he still had feelings for Eijiro ... what would have happened if they had sex that night? Or what if Katsuki hadn't been strong enough to stop him?

His mind spiraled down on those thoughts and it started to break him. He went back to his therapist, that he hadn't seen in years, and thought he wouldn't need again.

The therapist tried to calm his mind about it. But it was really bad this time.

He contacted Hitomi and told her what happened. She tried to console him, but it didn't fully work. She apologized to him for causing so much trouble, and Eijiro shook his head violently. Why did she apologize?

"No, it's not your fault, I got drunk and went to him." He mumbled.

"But only because I left ..."

"Still, it's not your fault. I should handle this better ..."

"Maybe you should go out and see someone? Not for a relationship, if you're not ready for that yet, but just to have some fun?" She suggested.

"W-what?"

"Yeah, try yourself out. Maybe this will bring your thoughts away from me and Katsuki?"

"Y-you would really be okay with that?"

"I mean, I'm sitting on the other side of the planet. As long as you don't tell me in detail what you do, I am not bothered by it."

"R-Right, maybe I should do that."

Eijiro messaged Izuku about his predicament, but he never got an answer.

He was sitting in his bed, criss-cross applesauce, and thought about it for a while. His sharp teeth pierced his bottom lip when he thought about the hands all over his body again. Cold night air, the grass surrounding him. Hot lips on his, all over his body ...

He flinched and shook his head violently, his cheeks were burning, he grabbed his phone and opened Ember. Fuck it! He would do it. Katsuki did it too, and it seemed he got something more out of it.

Eijiro wondered briefly, how deep the relationship between him and Hiroto was ... No, that was definitely not something he deserved to know.

He created a profile and when he came to his preferences in gender and secondary gender he stopped.

He thought about it for a while did he want alphas? Izuku had said that it was fun ... the fight for dominance ... A shudder ran over his back and for a moment he could feel the rough edges of tree bark on the naked skin of his back. He shook his head again, stop!

Should he try alphas? He tilted his head and selected 'only females' for primary gender, and 'anything goes' for secondary gender. He just couldn't do males. He felt the grass, some leaves, and dirt between his fingers. Fuck!

He stood up and walked to the shower, he turned it on cold and stepped under it, his raging thoughts just wouldn't go away.

After some time he turned the shower off and only with a towel around his hips, he walked out of the room. He bumped directly into Tetsutetsu.

"Oh, hey, bro, you look like you've seen a ghost, is everything okay?"

"Not really ... I have flashbacks of 'that night'" he murmured.

Tetsutetsu cringed. "I ... now what you mean ..."

"Do you?"

"Sometimes."

Eijiro sighed. "Fuck ... Hey, uh, I'm on Ember now, so we'll see how this turns out."

"Damn, bro, never thought you were the one to go on there." Tetsutetsu grinned.

"Hitomi told me to go. To get my mind off of all of this." He made a gesture with his arms.

"Understandable." For a moment Tetsutetsu looked him deep into the eyes, sending more shudders down his spine.

Eijiro flinched and stammered. "Uh, I should dress up."

Tetsutetsu had a similar reaction. "Uh, yeah, you should do that ..." with that Eijiro went into his room and Tetsutetsu into the bathroom.

Eijiro got many people who were interested in him. He was a hero after all and people recognized him.

The ladies he met were all pretty fine, some more, some less. At least no one was a nutjob so far.

He would mostly go into hotels, he didn't want all those people to know where he lived exactly.

Mina would encourage him to explore a little. Meanwhile, she complained that she never got someone good, not that she had a profile on the platform.

In March Eri contacted him. She asked if Eijiro, Mina, and Tetsutetsu wanted to come over. Her little brother was now almost two months old and she was excited to show him around.

Eijiro and Mina accepted excitedly, Tetsutetsu declined however, he had a job to work on.

Ochako and Tsuyu showed up too and they made their way over to the Aizawa-Yamada house. Their former teacher was a bit annoyed, he looked even more sleep-deprived than before.

To Eijiro's surprise, Hitoshi, Denki, and Kyoka were there too. They all gushed over the new pup. His name was Oboro Yamada. He was really cute, but he was also really loud. He had Hizashi's quirk, much to Shota's despair.

Eri was so damn proud of her little brother, it was just adorable.

Afterward, the group went into a café and they chatted. Denki was totally excited because he would soon have some surgeries to give him an artificial womb. He sparked a little in excitement.

"That sounds wonderful, Denki!" Ochako grinned.

"Yeah, right? Then I'm finally a complete omega!" He grinned widely.

"How long will it take till everything is ... functional?" Mina asked.

"Oh, this will take a while, for at least two or three years I should not try to have children. Which, I mean, fits for me, since I want to be a hero a little longer."

"Then I wish you the best of luck that everything will go smoothly!" Mina smiled.

The Red Steel Agency was doing great, they got massive amounts of jobs, and they managed to solve them in record time. The people really trusted them.

Mina was somehow very on edge around the Golden Week. The three of them had taken this week off, since, coincidentally Mina's heat, as well as Tetsutetsu's and Eijiro's ruts, aligned.

They never had this before and none of them had any special plans for heat or rut sharing. Eijiro had almost no matches this week, and unfortunately for Mina, Ochako was busy so she couldn't help her to heat share, and Tetsutetsu didn't have someone either.

The tension in the apartment was immeasurable. All three of them were at home and in their rooms, which probably wasn't the smartest idea.

Eijiro was so fucking horny, his thoughts were racing back to 'that night' and he really didn't want it but god damn! He couldn't help himself by the smell of the omega in heat and the other alpha in rut. Fuck!

Tetsutetsu was on edge too, he was sitting in his room on the edge of the bed and his feet were moving rapidly. His fingernails dug into the wood of the bed frame. He could smell Mina's and Eijiro's arousal. Shit!

Mina tossed herself around in her nest. She could sense the two rutting alphas and this drove her omega crazy, she wanted their dicks up her holes. She needed all the self-control she could muster, but god damn, was it hard! Damn!

The first two days were hell, they all tried to control themselves, but it was so hard!

Eventually, Mina couldn't bear it any longer. She jumped out of her bed and went to the living room. The alphas noticed her moving around and they were drawn out of their den's.

They all met in the living room. "Okay, this might become really awkward later, but I can't stand this. I'm on birth control, so please, guys, be good bro's and help me out here!

"Yeah, I was about to offer" Tetsutetsu answered.

"Me too!" Eijiro's throat was drier than the Death Valley but he didn't care.

"Good, perfect! Both of you, my nest, now!" She turned around and they followed her like good little puppies.

They didn't waste time, Mina found herself sandwiched between the two massive alphas, Tetsutetsu was behind her, while Eijiro was in front of her, they were both fucking mercilessly into her – and she enjoyed it. It wasn't the first time she had a sexual heat, but the last one wasn't very enjoyable, that was one of the reasons, she refused to sleep around. But this here, this here was different.

Her mind was running wild as her old crush for Eijiro ignited again. She had fucked herself in high school while thinking of him, more than once. She wasn't ashamed to admit that to herself. That she now had him was very arousing.

And Tetsutetsu was great too. She didn't have a crush on him while in school, but for the last couple of months, her feelings for him were very weird. He was god damn great, personality- and look-wise. She had to admit that she had a crush on him.

So, to get fucked by both now was peak excitement!

She enjoyed it too when Eijiro and Tetsutetsu went down on each other. It was so arousing to see Tetsutetsu fuck Eijiro. She touched herself while they were doing it.

They switched positions at one point and Eijiro dominated Tetsutetsu and it felt so goddamn good! He had missed that feeling ... to dominate another alpha ...

The rest of the week was incredible. Mina enjoyed it when they double-knotted her. The proximity they gave her was just the best!

The post-heat bliss was short, however. Eijiro and Tetsutetsu woke up in Mina's nest and while Tetsutetsu had not really a problem with it, Eijiro had. He asked himself if that had been a good idea in the first place.

He felt really awkward next to them and that's why he stood up and excused himself. Mina and Tetsutetsu stayed in bed longer.

The awkwardness eventually subsided after a few weeks, Mina and Tetsutetsu started to hit it off and now Eijiro could understand their pain when he had sex with Hitomi back in the days. They were quite loud!

It was around June when Eijiro met up with another girl for a hook-up. She was an omega but damn she was dominant! She said she hated it when alphas thought they were so god damn strong and better than everyone. She had cute dog ears on her head and long pink hair with gorgeous blue eyes. She had always a few dogs around her. Her quirk was Dog Whisperer and she could talk and control the animals. Her name was Mae Inuko. She worked as a professional dog trainer.

She was crazy in bed and it was really fun for Eijiro, he enjoyed letting himself go and giving dominance to Mae.

After their meeting they went different ways for quite some time, he wouldn't see her for a few months.

They eventually had a big rescue mission they saved a bunch of poor omegas. He felt absolutely disgusted by those alphas who did this.

After that, he was drained. It was a hard job. That's when he ran into Mae again. She was walking her dogs. "Oh, hey, long time no see," she said, smiling.

"Yeah, it's been a while." He grinned.

"I was wondering, do you want to go on a date?" Mae asked all of a sudden. Eijiro was very surprised by that.

"Oh, ah, yeah, sure!"

And with that they sat down in a café, they talked for a long while. Outside of their sexual experience, they didn't know much about the other, so Eijiro quite enjoyed that.

They made something out for the following weekend too, and Eijiro was quite happy when he got home. Tetsutetsu and Mina were still at the office, it seemed.

The weekend came quickly and Mae and Eijiro went to watch a movie, it was a shit movie but the night was great. Mae laughed about Eijiro's comments about the film. After that, they went for a walk. It was in the middle of the night and they were in a park when Mae suddenly pushed him into some bushes. Eijiro grinned when she kissed him.

"How about some quick midnight action?" She teased.

"Oh, but what about other people? What if someone walks by?"

"Then you better hurry up" she bit in his bottom lip and pulled on it.

Eijiro opened his pants as fast as he could. She went down on him and she was very efficient, she definitely knew what she wanted.

After their quickie, they dressed up and went back to Eijiro's apartment. They stumbled directly into Tetsutetsu and Mina, who were enjoying themselves in the kitchen. "Uh, guys, you have your own room! Not in the kitchen!" Eijiro raised his eyebrows.

"We wanted to cook dinner ... but oh well, we got distracted," Tetsutetsu said, shrugging.

"Oh, is that a new girlfriend?" Mina asked, she was still a little breathless.

"Hi, I'm Mae, well, not quite, we're working on it" she laughed a little.

"You're damn cute, I must say" Mina giggled.

"Ohoh, you better watch out, Eijiro, she might want to take her away from you" Tetsutetsu warned.

"Nah, don't worry about it" she grinned at Tetsutetsu and pulled him with her. "C'mon, bedroom. You have to finish something!"

"Aye, ma'am." With that, they disappeared.

Mae laughed. "Damn!"

"Yeah, Mina's always like that."

"Let's go to the bedroom too, they are having fun, so we can have fun too!"

"That sounds like a plan!"

Sex with Mae was different than with Hitomi. Hitomi enjoyed pleasing him, she was very sensual and she liked the submissive position more, she wanted to relax and let him have more of a say – not that she was never dominant, she could if she wanted, she just chose not to. Her mind reader ability was great for sexual stuff, she could read in Eijiro's head what he wanted and she adjusted to this.

Mae, on the other hand, was raw and aggressive, she liked to fight for the dominance. It was a constant power struggle and it was fun. Sometimes he could subdue her, sometimes she dominated him mercilessly. She was wild and she always found new ways to tease him.

They met up more regularly now and it was always quite the adventure. And while there were some feelings between them, it wasn't quite love.

The hero billboard charts came up and Eijiro was quite excited to be on rank nine. When he heard that Hawks wanted to quit being a hero because of his pregnancy, he was quite surprised.

He later talked with Shoto about it and he had to collect his jaw somewhere on the floor when he learned that Endeavor of all people was the baby daddy. Shoto was not happy either.

"Tch, I mean, as if it's not bad enough that he knocks someone up who is younger than his eldest son, no, it has to be the former best friend of said son ... Plus we get a half-sibling now ... that feels weird to even think about it."

"I completely get that ... God, how did they come out to the family?"

"Well, Endeavor wasn't even there since we were at mother's house, you know, mother, Natsuo, Fuyumi, Momo, Toya, Hotaru and me we were having dinner ... and all of a sudden, Hawks shows up, Toya is at first happy but then he drops the bomb. He sits with us at the table, a huge grin on his face. And he announces that he's pregnant. At first, everyone is happy for him. But then Natsuo asked who's the father. And without a little ounce of shame or guilt or whatever he says 'Enji of course'. Dinner was over after that, Fuyumi took Hotaru outside while Toya went completely off on Hawks."

"I mean, even though Toya lives with us and all, he still hates Endeavor and I don't think this will ever change, but now it's even worse and he and Hawks are not on good terms anymore. Well, I guess Hawks still wants to be friends, but Toya blocked him completely."

"Understandable. I would be creeped out too if my best friend hit on my dad" Eijiro mumbled. "How are you feeling?"

Shoto shrugged. "I am not a fan, but they are both adults, and neither of them has a partner since mother and Endeavor are separated. Mother only commented that she wished them luck and that he hopefully treated him better than he had her. But she made clear, that he wasn't welcome in this house anymore. If he wanted to stay with Endeavor, he could stay at his place. You know ... I was about to forgive him for the things he had done ... it was so close, but this action ... I don't know."

"Hey, take your time with that. I couldn't forgive him that either."

"We will see what comes of it ..."

This Christmas, Eijiro was with Mae, Mina, and Tetsutetsu. He couldn't believe that Hitomi was already gone for a year ... And now he had a different girl by his side, he still hadn't figured out what their relationship was, but it didn't matter too much it was fun nonetheless.

This New Year he didn't end up at Katsuki's door, instead he heat shared with Mae. It was a wonderful New Year.

Hot ... it was absolutely hot here. Izuku was with Ian, Jesper, Robin, and Lee in Turkmenistan. They visited the Darvaza gas crater.

"Hey, how about you take a photo of me in the crater?" Robin asked his brother.

"Sure thing" Lee gave him a thumbs up and with that Robin jumped down into the pits of hell. He stood on top of the burning lava and posed a while he was then 'diving' down and he 'swam' around in it. Afterward, he climbed back out. Only his clothes were a little bit burned, otherwise, he was unharmed.

His quirk was Environmental Defiance and Adaptation. He could basically ignore all environments he was in. In a blizzard he wouldn't freeze, in the desert, he wouldn't overheat, in water, he didn't get wet and he wouldn't burn in lava and so on.

His brother Lee had the quirk Power Walking. He could walk on any surface effortlessly with control, efficiency, precision, traction, and balance at any speed. While he could technically walk on lava, he couldn't do it actually because unlike Robin he would burn. But for example, he could walk a steep mountain upwards faster than any mountain goat. While the others had to actually climb up, he could just walk like on an even surface. He could even walk into the air, as long as he didn't stop in mid-air he was good to go.

Those quirks were perfect for extreme athletes like they were. Ian and Jesper with their super healing didn't need to be too careful either. If they fell off a cliff it didn't matter too much.

Izuku had his own collection of quirks, he could float anywhere he wanted and had blackwhip too, so no matter what he wasn't going to die just like that.

The travels around the world were always fun. It helped him to not completely lose all faith in humanity. After witnessing so much death and gore, he needed something to get his mind off of that.

After visiting the Gas Crater they made their way back to Thailand, to drop some stuff off. Before they would fly to Hawaii to visit the Stairway to Heaven. It was illegal to hike there but that never stopped Robin or Lee.

The view was just incredible overall. And he enjoyed his time with the guys.

But he was also very glad to be back in Thailand. Well, not Thailand per se, but he was glad to be back in Lucia's arms. Even though they were cold and metallic, it didn't bother him.

She presented him, how much she had learned in the weeks he was away. She could almost walk normally again, he was so proud of her.

It was around his birthday again, and Izuku and Lucia went to the outside world again. Lucia was in the mansion most of the time. She walked on her own, Izuku holding her hand still, but she managed a decent round. Kieran was absolutely delighted to see his mother like that.

A smile appeared on Lucia's face when she watched her son. Izuku grinned too, Kieran was such a nice kid, he didn't deserve all the bad stuff that had happened to him.

She was exhausted when they came back, Kieran went to the daycare to play with the others, and Izuku brought Lucia into his room.

"It really sucks that the recovery takes so long" she sighed. "I miss it. I can't even do the simplest things."

"You are doing great, Lucia! Don't rush things! You need to fully recover first, but when you're back in action it will be even greater." He encouraged her.

"You should have seen me before that happened to me. I was very energetic. I could do the craziest things ... now I am bound to the help of others, it's just so frustrating."

"You will get to a point, where you can do all these things again! Just don't give up" he tried to cheer her up.

She gave him a smile. "I won't, I will stay strong for my son, and for you." She looked at him and the smile faded a little, her metallic hand reached for his cheek.

"This body ... it feels like a prison ... I can touch people, yet I can't feel their warmth ... It's terrible."

Izuku laid a hand on her cheek. "There are other ways to feel the warmth" he murmured. He leaned in and came close to her lips, yet he let her choose if she wanted it. He could feel her warm breath on his lips.

Lucia covered the distance and their lips met. She closed her eyes and a few times, they kissed each other, before Lucia pulled back and turned her head away. "But Izuku, would you really want that?"

"What do you mean?" He tilted his head.

"I'm a broken woman ... my arms and legs are gone, I am still marked, I'm older than you ..."

"You are not broken, yes, the arms and legs, but you are not broken beyond repair! You are beautiful and kind, even after the horrors you went through. You keep me sane in this rotten world. And I don't care that you are older, six years is not that much. Lucia, you mean a lot to me, I know to some kind, how bad an incomplete bond is, yet your situation is so much different, it must be horrible to lose the love of your life, and I know that I can't replace that. And I won't try to replace your husband. I know how much he meant to you. And if you don't want that, it is completely okay, you don't have to. I just want to let you know that I am always here for you."

Lucia closed her eyes and thought about it for a long time. "I can't promise anything, I don't know if I can ever fall in love again, but I am willing to try."

She leaned over again and covered his mouth with hers. They were just a few soft kisses before she broke off and they just lay next to each other.

Izuku went back to war in September, he hated it, but he wanted to save more people.

This time, they went behind the shangonian border, they landed in Asmara, Eritrea and they had to fight off the shangonian soldiers that had occupied the city.

He walked through the blood-soaked streets of the city, bodies all over the place, his danger sense told him that no one was around anymore. The shangonians had either been killed or had retreated.

He saw how Kairi and the others pulled the bodies to piles, the shangonian soldiers got their own, they just threw them on top of each other, while they placed the civilians neatly next to each other. Some of the rescued civilians returned to the city to mourn their dead. But they knew they had to leave soon. They would be brought over to Egypt first, after that, they would decide where the refugees would go. They couldn't stay here, that much was clear.

Izuku clenched his jaw, when he saw the body of a little boy, he must have been Kieran's age. He carefully picked him up and brought him over to the other civilians. He placed him next to one of the others and carefully stroked over his face.

"It's madness" Ian murmured next to him. "The worst part of it is, that you just know it won't stop here. The city will be overrun again, as soon as we leave. It's just a drop on a hot stone ..."

"This Shango ... I thought All for One was bad, but how is this guy reigning over a country this openly and no one does anything about it? How could they let this happen?"

"Some people are chameleons, you would never think that they are this fucking mad ..."

They moved further inland and on their way they left a bloody path. The Egyptian soldiers and the rest of the Eritrean Resistance Group helped the civilians to get out of the country.

At the beginning of October, Izuku had to return, he just couldn't stand it anymore. He was drained and he just wanted to be with Lucia again.

"You must think I am pathetic because I can't stay longer and help more people ..." he murmured, he was rolled into a ball on his bed.

"No! Why would you think that? You're doing great work! You saved so many lives that otherwise would be lost! The truth is, you can't save everyone, you are just another, tiny human in this rotten, flaming pile of garbage. You are doing more than most people do, so don't be too harsh on yourself."

If it wasn't the war, it was the city, there was a murderer going around. Not that murder was something special here, but this person was a beast. He had brutally mutilated a few prostitutes. All males, all omegas, some of which Izuku knew.

He was with Jay and Sam on the crime scene. The irony stench was filling the room, torn limbs were scattered across it. Some torsos were hanging off of meat hooks. They, unfortunately, didn't get an answer for the whodunit.

Izuku entered his rut, and it was hard, his breathing was heavy and he felt like shit, his mental state was an absolute mess and this affected his rut too.

Lucia stayed with him. She wasn't fazed by him at all, she knew that he was going through something too.

They rut shared for the first time, as good as Lucia could. It got pretty heated between them, but they managed.

But eventually, she broke down crying. In his rut-driven mind, Izuku asked her what was wrong.

"I ... I feel the connection to my husband is slipping ... but it is still crying out, it hurts so much!"

"Slipping?"

"Yes, it only happens when the partner dies. The pheromones get less and less, my bond is about to break ... and this hurts!" she cried. "I don't want to lose his bond!"

Izuku's heart clenched when he saw Lucia crying. "What can I do to ease the pain?"

"You can't, it's like a scrubbing. The only thing would be another bite mark, but my husband is dead."

"And if someone else claims you? Would that ease the pain?"

"Y-yes, I believe so, but y-you shouldn't! This is not right, you shouldn't suffer because of me."

"But I want to help you. Hey, I was claimed before, and I know how shitty it is. But this is even worse for you, so let me help you" He looked her deep into the eyes. "You don't need to claim me back if you don't want to, but I want to do this for you."

Lucia's lips quivered, she thought about it. "O-Only if you really want it. There is no going back ..."

"I am sure!"

Lucia laid her head back and offered him her neck. Carefully, Izuku licked over the junction of her neck and shoulder. His rough tongue was scratching over the skin. He then sunk his teeth deep into her flesh and he claimed her, venom was flowing off of his teeth and into her skin. She gasped in excitement.

He stopped and licked again over the wound to seal it. "Mine ..." he murmured. They shared a bloody kiss before Lucia broke it.

"Do you want to be claimed by me too?" She asked. "You would really want to be with someone like me?"

"Absolutely, you're the most beautiful woman I ever met. You helped me so much, I can't thank you enough. It would be an honor to be claimed by you."

Tears ran over his cheeks and she also licked the point where his scent glands were. This time, when teeth pierced his skin it wasn't cruel and brutal. It was pleasant, even though it hurt like hell. But he knew that it was from a person that he cared really deeply for and he wanted to be with her, no matter what.

After his rut, he became clear again. He looked around and found Lucia sitting at the window.

"Hey, is everything okay?" He asked.

"Yes, I am feeling fine ... better than fine, actually. I feel liberated. As if I can finally breathe again." She cried and smiled at the same time. "I suppose we are married now" Lucia stood up and walked over to him. She kissed him. "Will I have your name?"

"Lucia Midoriya ... Do you want to be called like that?" he ask her.

"It would be an honor" she placed more kisses on his lips.

"Then you will be called that from now on." He lifted her up on his lap and kissed her more.

They went down to see his mother. They found her at work and she was very surprised to see her son, mated again. "I-Izuku a-are you sure about that?"

"Yes, mother, I am absolutely sure, she is my wife now, Lucia Midoriya."

Inko stared at her son. "You really grew up, huh. My baby has a wife now ..." she exhaled. "I am happy if you are happy."

Kieran ran over to them. He smelled at his mother's knew, different scent. "Kieran, sweetheart. Izuku and I mated now. He will take care of us from now on" she stroked through his white hair.

"You will take care of us? More than before?" He looked up to Izuku.

"Yes, I will, I promise!" Kieran hugged Izuku, overall he was very happy now.

The others noticed the bond fairly quickly and congratulated them.

Izuku checked his email account, he had found some emails from his former classmates, but he was away so much, that he never got really the time to answer them. He didn't really know what to answer to their emails, he had one from Eijiro, from the beginning of the year. He had read it but never replied. That night, huh?

He also had read the mail about that time he almost kissed Katsuki.

Katsuki had sent him a few emails but even they stayed unanswered.

His eyebrows shot up when he read that Keigo was pregnant from Endeavor.

He was happy to read, that Toya had found someone, as well as Katsuki, he had sent him a picture. They looked adorable.

Eijiro told him once he had heat and rut shared with Mina and Tetsutetsu and it was fucking epic. Even though it was a bit awkward afterward. He also mentioned in a later mail, that he had found a new girl that he really liked.

Izuku felt actually bad for not answering any of those, he did that in December. This would be the first Christmas with his new family.

Most of the Ridgway family was not celebrating Christmas, only the pairs who had little children, otherwise they stayed out of the festivities.

Izuku loved to see the pure joy in Kieran's eyes when he opened his presents. Izuku knew once again, he had done the right thing.
