Title: Changing Interrogation Methods

Author: Onee-sama ^__^

Fandom: Gundam Wing (What else !? I think I'm addicted... oh well *shruggs*)

Pairing: I don't want to rush things here, so it's still no real pairing...

Warnings: cuteness maybe... just read, maybe you find something else...*shruggs*

AN: Hi everyone, here's the next part!

Before you read this I want to answer a few questions for PATTY... by the way, thanks for reading this patty! I'm really happy you like it ^__^... and sorry for my grammar, I corrected a few of my mistakes. If you find any more of them then tell me, okay?

Now, back to the questions:

1. You asked about the mission they had. Well, there are still some ex-OZ soldiers who try to get their strength back and start a new war (stupid guys). The Preventers are there to stop such actions. The mission the two had was to infiltrate a secret base and find out what their plans were.
2. The information that the bad guys wanted to get out of them were informations about the Preventers. How they get their informations, what weakness they have and if there are more of their agents around... such things...
3. the thing with the safehouse... well, I just thought it would still fit. After all they are still ex-gundampilots and old habits are hard to get rid of... hope that answers that question ^_ ^
4. Now, the thing with Heero not being in the hospital. First, it's because I think they don't like hospitals. The atmosphere and all the people there. Second, like in the last question, old habits. And third, if someone tries to harm Heero while he is in such a bad condition, it's easier for them in a hospital. I think that are all the reasons for that thingy...
Soo, any more questions? Just ask and I will answer them!

Oh, and I want to thank all of you who read my story so far and especially all of you that wrote a review or two... ^__^ And I definitely don't mind if you want to write more... (doitplease!!doitplease!!)

Well now, enough with all the talking! Have fun with the fic!

Healing-time

Part 5:

Need some soup?

***

Duo finished his food in silence. He hurried up with eating and after a few minutes he sat the bowl away and on the nightstand.

// Time to wake Heero up... I really don't want to wake him up so early, but he needs to eat something... it's been too long since his last meal. Hell, the last time I saw him eat was the day before we got caught during our last mission! And it was just one of these little salads from the cafeteria in the HQ back then... When he's finished with the food I let him sleep as long as he needs to... or until Sally comes in here. Depends on how long he wants to sleep. //

Duo leant over Heero and really carefully shook him a little bit by the shoulder.

"Hee-chan, wake up! Come on, dinner's ready."

Heero let out a quiet groan and slowly opened his eyes.

"Duo?"

"Yes, it's me. Sorry to wake you up again, but Q-man made some soup for you and I just realised that it's been quite a while since you ate something. I promise you that you can go back to sleep after you ate it and that I will do everything I can to let you sleep as long as you need to... okay, Sally will visit us tomorrow afternoon to check up on you, what means you have to be awake, but you can sleep until then... .. okay, when I am right than you are actually glaring at me, though it looks kinda funny with just one eye. I'm talking too much, aren't I? You have to sit up if you want to eat... need some help?"

Heero stared at him in thought and then nodded slowly. He really wasn't in any condition to move without help. Well, of course he could move alone, but the pain would be visible on his face and he didn't want the braided boy to get upset about it, or so Heero told himself.

Duo slowly helped him up and even WITH the help the pain was almost unbearable.

When he finally sat, leaning heavily against the headboard of the bed, he panted slightly and needed a few seconds to calm his breathing down again. He was never in a condition as bad as this.

Duo looked at him with sympathy.

// Poor Hee-chan. //

"Can you eat it without help or do I have to feed you? I wouldn't mind..." // Not at all...

Heero was silent and avoided Duo's gaze. He thought about the offer. His right shoulder and both arms hurt like hell and especially when he had to move.
He kept silent.

"..."

"Heero? What's wrong? Do you need my help?"

Heero nodded once. His cheeks were slightly red. It was embarrassing for him to need so much help, but what else could he do?

Duo took the bowl with the soup and the spoon and got closer to Heero.

"You don't have to be embarrassed. It's absolutely normal that you need a bit help. Your body is in real bad shape and no one will laugh at you or something."

Since when could Duo read him so good? He didn't even say something.

Duo took a spoonful of soup and held it in front of Heero's mouth.

"Come on, open up! It's good!"

Heero blushed even more but opened his mouth and swallowed the warm liquid. It burned a bit in his throat, but not too strong and Heero actually was happy to get something into his stomach. He didn't need to be asked again to open his mouth when the spoon came to his lips again and offered him more of the soup. They repeated this actions a few more times and Heero actually ate almost all of it, except of a bit that stayed in the bowl.

After they were finished, Duo put the bowl aside and held the cup with the rest of the water to Heero's lips who drank it without protest.

"Well, wasn't that nice? How are ya feelin' now? Better?"

"... hai... but tired..."

Duo chuckled a bit.

"At least your voice sounds a bit better now. Not so scratchy. Do you need anything else before we tuck you in again? Some more water? A trip to the bathroom? A good night story?..."

Even the thought of the way to the bathroom was horrible for Heero, but right now he didn't need to go... and he was glad. That problem will come soon enough.

"No, thank you... I'm fine.."

"All right then, time to say good night."

He slowly helped Heero down again and covered him up with the blanket. This time Duo didn't sit down on the bed. Instead he pulled the chair Quatre used earlier further up to Heero's side and sat down on it.

"Now, go to sleep. I will stay here in case you need something."

Heero's eyelids already started to drop, but he forced them open again.

"Duo... the things earlier, I-"

"Don't worry about it Hee-chan. We will talk later... when you're feeling better, okay?"

"...hai..."

A few seconds later Heero was fast asleep.

Duo smiled softly. He leant over to Heero and kissed him on the forehead.

Then he whispered. "Sleep well... my Hee-chan..."

He leant back in the chair and began one of his favourite things... Watching Heero.

How was that? Poor Heero, can't get his well-needed sleep... *shruggs* but aren't they kinda cute? Duo feeding Heero... nice picture...

Tell me if you liked it, k? and ask questions if you have some. And tell me if you find mistakes (I'm sure there are enough...)

Oh, and PLEEEAASSEEEE look at my drawings on mediaminer.org!!! They're really not bad but I want to know what you think of them so please write a comment about them... they're all about Duo and Heero, oh and one with Trowa... you really should see that... just Trowa on an armchair and nothing else... not even clothes *drool* Don't forget, MEDIAMINER.ORG !!!!

Ok then, cya all!
