Hymn to the Night

A candle shining bright
Your face shines in the fairly light
Around you is the dark moonlit night
Slowly I regain my nighttime sight

*It is the night that brings the dreams
It is the darkness in which the freedom dwells*

Your face and cheeks seem to be wet
Though your eyes show the purest love
What can I do for you, oh tell me,
That you, my Darling, can love again?

*It is the that morning wakes you up
It is the morning that casts away your nightly dreams*

Trust me and take my offered hand
I'll lead you to a lunar land
It is far and hidden in the stars
It is the land where we can love forevermore

*It is the dusk that brings the night
But it is the dawn that brings the morn*

I will love you until the end of time
Until the End of time I will stay with you
I will dry the salty water from your cheeks
By simply kissing away your tears

*So, hold the nights in your days
For the morning will come for sure...*
