Tears

The cold inside
It is like ice
I want to cry
But tears won't come

I don't know what to feel
All the feelings are now gone
All the laughter has now ceased
But still - The tears won't come

Help me out
What should I do?
I am alone
But still no tears to come

I want it all to go away
The world to leave behind
To sleep and all forget
But there is no sleep and still no tears

No one cares
What I just feel
I want to talk
Then the tears would come

I want to cry, it is true
But not here in that grey
It is warmth I want to feel
But there the tears won't come

I hear something
A silent sound
A laugh away
Now the tears come true

I don't feel relieved
Although this water brings oblivion
But I can't forget it all tonight
Finally the tears have come

The cold inside
It stays in me
I stopped to cry
But tears did not help

I still don't know what I should feel
Still the feelings are all gone
No laughter has returned
Once again the tears are gone
